STATE CONVENTION
WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Oct. 21.— Charges that the attempted repeal of the search and seizure law limiting liquor arrests was smothered by the House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence in the 40th Legislature because of a "wet" influence in the House were made before the State convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union Monday by Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, Austin, president.

She quoted one unnamed legislator as saying it "made him happy to kill prohibition bills."

Governors Smith and Ritchie and Senator Reed were denounced by Mrs. Wattle as presidential possibilities because of their alleged "wet" leanings.

Mrs. Wattle also took shots at cigarette smoking by young women and the Canadian plan of government sale of liquor. As for the political situation, she said "we are facing the greatest domestic crisis since the Civil War."

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 31.—Prepared for a full discussion of the "wet" and "dry" issue in the light of the coming presidential campaign, the State convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union gathered here Monday for a four-day meeting.

Mrs. Claude De Van Watters, State president, said the "66th Annual Convention on dry" candidates for public office. "Building the walls of defense," a pageant will be one of the convention's main features. A brick wall will be built before the convention, symbolizing the rearing of an obstacle against the alleged encroachment of the "liquor interests" on the precincts of the home.

No Effort to Underestimate Income

Articulating the demands which will be made for larger reductions on the grounds that the estimates of the surplus for 1929 are too low in view of the fact that past estimates have always been low, the Secretary denied that the underestimates in the past were the result of "deliberate intention of policy."

"Every effort to avoid a repetition of this result," he said, "has been made in preparation of the estimates here presented. It would be unwarranted and unwise to assume that if the present estimates are again concerned with the surplus, the Treasury has not consciously nor as a matter of policy played safe."

"If tax reductions are made on appropriations voted on the assumption the present figures understate probable future receipts, responsibility for such reductions or appropriations must be assumed by those who advocate them. The Treasury has placed the probable receipts at the highest figures compatible with the most dependable forecast and facts, which careful and disinterested investigation could secure."

JOHN J. MITCHELL DIES AFTER AUTO GOES INTO DITCH

By The Associated Press.
Chicago, Oct. 29.—John J. Mitchell, Sr., 74-year-old chairman of the board of Chicago's second greatest financial institution, the Illinois Merchants Trust Company, died in a doctor's office in Libertyville, Ill., 35 miles from here, shortly after he had been injured today in an automobile accident which also claimed the life of Mrs. Mitchell.

The accident occurred two and one-half miles north of Libertyville which is about 33 miles northwest of Chicago, as Mitchell and his wife were returning to Chicago from their summer home at Lake Geneva.

Mrs. Mitchell was killed instantly when the heavy closed car in which they were riding turned into a roadside ditch when the chauffeur hurriedly applied the brakes in an effort to avoid crashing into a crowd gathered about two automobiles which had collided just ahead of the Mitchell car.

When Mr. Mitchell was taken from his wrecked automobile it was believed he, too, was dead, but John L. Taylor of Libertyville found a spark of life still blowing faintly and for more than an hour and a half fought a futile battle to save the banker's life. Mr. Mitchell had suffered injuries to his head and chest which foretold death.

The Mitchell chauffeur was not seriously injured. He was driving through a dense fog under difficult conditions and the Mitchell machine was almost upon the wrecked vehicles before he realized his position and hurriedly applied the brakes. Emulating his father in choosing banking as his life work, John J. Mitchell became president of a Chicago bank at 28, was acclaimed one of the city's greatest financiers at 40, and was recalled from retirement after four years to head the second ranking bank in Illinois at the age of 70.

He was born Nov. 3, 1853, at Alton, Ill., where he received a public school education, and went with his parents to Chicago when he was 20 years old. His first job was as messenger for the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, and in six years he climbed to a high place in the councils of the bank. In 1876 a financial flurry all but wrecked the bank and when it was tottering its destiny was placed in the hands of Young Mitchell. He instituted a series of reform principles, one of which was that no loans were to be made unless covered by full collateral.

On one occasion it is related that P. D. Armour sent to the bank from the floor of the stock exchange a hurry call for a loan of $100,000, but the young bank president sent back word that he could not recognize Mr. Armour's request without sufficient guarantee for the loan. The transaction with Mr. Mitchell's terms and his final consummate determination to stick to the bank's rule made a firm friend of Mr. Armour.

The Illinois Trust prospered under the guidance of Mr. Mitchell and in 20 years its deposits grew from $1,000,000 to $60,000,000. He retired from the active leadership of the bank in 1919. Four years later it was merged with the Merchants Loan and Trust Company and the Corn Exchange National Bank under the name of the Illinois Merchants Trust Company. This merger made the new bank the second in rank in Illinois and Mr. Mitchell was called out of retirement to become its head.

He was a member of the boards of several other Chicago and New York financial institutions and was a director of five railway companies and many large business enterprises. He preached and practiced economy in private life as well as in business, and in a public statement once declared that "ex-

Mr. Mitchell in 1890 married Mary Louise Jewett of Bristol, R. I. They had three sons and two daughters. A son, John J. Mitchell, Jr., in 1920 married Miss Lolita Armour, daughter of J. Ogden Armour, and grand-daughter of the Armour to whom Mitchell refused to lend money without collateral.

When his friend, Victor F. Lawson, owner and editor of the Chicago Daily News, died on August 19, 1925, Mitchell virtually took charge of the financial affairs of the Lawson estate, estimated at more than $20,000,000, of which the bank was trustee.

The bulk of the estate was left to religious and philanthropic purposes, and the News was sold for approximately $14,000,000 to Walter F. Strong, nephew of the publisher, and associates.

Mitchell was 72 years old when taken ill with gall bladder trouble in the summer of 1926, but survived an operation.

RUSH OF HOGS TO MARKET CONTINUED DURING SEPTEMBER

By Associated Press.
Port Worth, Texas, Oct. 28.—The rush of hogs to market here early this year and maintained since save for brief periods, continued during September at a rate accelerated considerably over that of August, according to the monthly report of the Fort Worth Stockyards Company recently released here.

During September, hog receipts here totaled 24,045, 7,313 coming by truck and 16,732 by rail as compared with 18,222 received in August and 17,926 in July. These supplies brought the total receipts of hogs for 1927 to 270,699, or 115,839 more than had been received at the end of September, 1926. September receipts last year were only 114,048.

In the continued heavy receipts, experts here see the certainty that receipts of hogs this year will exceed those of 1925, or 312,042, considered very high, and probability that a new record will be set. Last year's mark of 217,197 was bettered during July, a comparatively dull month, according to this year's standards of marketing.

The big jump in receipts this year is generally ascribed by buyers here to increase in hog population over last year to the good demand resulting in high prices for feed this year.

"There seems to be a tendency to dispose of brood sows, however," one buyer stated, "and this if carried too far will impair next year's supplies."

An outstanding feature of the hog trade in September—and it is characteristic of the trade during the year—is the decrease in average weight of hogs, average weight for September this year being 234 pounds, as compared with 239 pounds for September of last year. This weight seems to be in line with the general demand for small-cuts of meat of all kinds, probably originated with the housewife, a livestock expert here offered as an explanation. "Housewives are no longer in the market for huge cuts of meat, of hogs, cattle or sheep. They want something good and small enough for a family meal."

SEARCH CONTINUING FOR USES COTTON SEED PRODUCTS

Special to the Sun.
Columbia, S. C., Oct. 28.—Addressing the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association at its fourth annual convention at Old Point Comfort, Va., on June 15, 1926, Dr. D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., said: "The intensive system of agriculture is responsible for wonderful strides in that competition. By skillful and scientific manipulation an acre of ground is now made to yield three times the product of former years. The same intensive idea in steam engineering has made it possible to produce from a ton of coal three times as much power as formerly. The same intensive idea can, easily, wrench from a ton of cotton seed three times the present values."

The value of the cotton seed crop of 1899, the previous year, was estimated by (Mr. Tompkins as having been $60,000,000, an average value per ton of $15.00. Telling the crushers that "how to go forward is the problem we must all keep before us," Mr. Tompkins declared that "the great step towards increasing the profits lies of course in continuing the processes of greater refinement and diversifying the products, making a more finished article for the market."

Mr. D. A. Tompkins was a pioneer in the cotton seed oil mill industry. Mr. Richard H. Edwards, Editor of the Manufacturers Record, says that Mr. Tompkins once told him that when a student at college he heard an address by General E. B. Alexander, one of the last of the great Confederate generals to pass away, in which he touched on the possibilities inherent in cotton seed. That so stimulated his thought on cotton seed that after graduating at Troy, spending some years with John Fritz at Bethlehem and going to Germany to build a plant there for American inventors, Mr. Tompkins returned to Carolina determined to devote much of his life to the cotton seed industry and other industrial activities. His record as a builder and engineer in the oil mill industry is known to all.

Belief Well Founded

If Mr. Tompkins were alive today he would see that his early belief in the future possibilities of the cotton seed had been well founded. From August 1, 1926 to July 31, 1927, a total of 6,391,511 tons of cotton seed were crushed from which were produced 1,886,836 pounds of crude oil; 2,835,104 tons of cake and meal; 1,852,408 tons of hulls, 3,560,705 barrels of refined oil and 1,037,034 bales of lint of 500 pounds each. Agricultural leaders assert that $500,000,000 is a conservative estimate of the value of the cotton seed's annual contribution to the national welfare.

What has increased the value of the cotton seed crop from $60,000,000 in 1899-1900 to where it is estimated to contribute $500,000,000 to the national welfare today? What uses have the oil millers and refiners, through their chemists, found for the seed and its by-products?

First, of all, the once-despised linters are now being used for bathing, wadding, stuffing material for pads, cushions, comforts, horse collars; mattresses and upholstery; absorbent cotton, mixing with shoddy; mixing with wool in hat-making; mixing with lamb's wool for fleeced-lined underwear; felt, low-grade yarns; lamp and candle wicks; twine; rope; carpets; cellulose; writing paper, gun cotton, nitrocellulose of pyrocellulose; cellulose acetate; lacquers; smokeless powder; pyroxylin; varnishes; coating for metals; artificial silk and photographic films.

Then hulls are used for feed, fertilizer, fuel, potash, packing, household utensils, bran-cotton feed, stuffing horse collars, basis for explosives, dynamite, cellulose, paper, stock-pressed paper products and blotting paper.

Kernels Are Valuable.

From the kernels of the seed come the cake and meal and crude oil. The cake and meal are used in feed for cattle, poultry, horses and mules, swine, and sheep; flour for bread, cake and cracker and for fertilizer. The crude oil is put to many uses. The refined product is used in prime summer yellow oil, cosmetics, bleached or deodorized oil in hard compound, cooking oil in hard substitutes and hard compound, cold pressed oil and wicker oil in salad oil, setting glues packing, sardines, winter white oil, stearin-margarin; emulsion for medical purposes, substitute for sweet oil, deodorized oil. The off-grade summer yellow oil is used in making soap, miners' oil and deodorized oil in soap. The crude oil is used in making putty, foots in washing powder, adulterated foots or black grease in glycerine-nitroxylycerin; fatty acids in candle pitch and distilled fatty acids, stearic acid-candles, washing powder, soap Stearin pitch or cotton-oil pitch, oleic pitch in soap, fulling ware, roofing tar, composition roofing, insulating material, waterproofing, cheap-paint base, cotton rubber, artificial leather for upholstery and book-binding, photographic records.

What of the possibilities of the future? Just as Mr. Tompkins asserted in 1900 that the value of seed could be tripled by skillful and scientific manipulation, which has done so, is the assertion now being made by agricultural authorities that eventually the cotton seed will become worth $1,000,000,000 to the nation because as Dr. A. M. Somer expresses it "we are a long way yet from appreciating or utilizing its latent possibilities as the Great God who created it intended."

New Fields Sought

The Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association and its members have been intensively developing new uses for seed and its by-products since its organization in 1897. Today it has a forward-looking research program of definite program of research which it is hoped will result in the discovery of new and very important uses. There are many who think that undiscovered possibilities are as great as the discovered.

The whole South has profited by the work of the oil miller and refiner. Especially is this true of the cotton farmer. The benefit which was going to accrue to the farmer was clearly foreseen by Mr. Tompkins and in his speech at Old Point Comfort in 1900 he said: "I conclude that no men are deserving more credit in the South than the oil men. They work for and benefit the farmer." And again he said in this same speech: "No one set of people have done more for the farmer than you have." And again, "All manufacturers are advantageous to the farmer, but the development of the cotton oil business has been most advantageous, and these advantages have been more generally dispersed over the whole South and reached farther into the country."

BLOOMING GROVE GETS INTERESTED IN GOOD HIGHWAYS

In talking to Commissioner Collins we learn that Federal and State aid has been issued to the highway through the county from the Ellis county line on South through Corsicana on the Dallas-Houston highway which includes Emhouse and Richland.

A road district has been formed around Purdon that if carried through a bond issue will put the highway from the Corsicana road on past Purdon toward Vaco.

When asked as to the best way out for this part of the county Mr. Collins stated that we ought to form a district from county line west of Frost that would meet the Corsicana district road at Pinkston. Let it be a district just a few miles wide on each side of this highway and vote bonds that will pave this side of the county.

It is the only way to hold our own with the rest of the county. Mr. Collins said the road gangs have just completed some much needed road work in the Silver City and Call communities and have come up in this section now.

Both Mr. Simmons and Miss Garrett are new teachers in our school. We are sure they are going to do their part in making this one of the most successful schools Buffalo has ever had. We welcome both of them to our community.

Miss Irma Howell of Kerens who has been a very successful teacher in our school the past two years will teach in the intermediate grades. We are glad to have Miss Howell with us again.

The teachers and trustees are putting forth their best efforts to make this the best school term in the history of Buffalo.

A. M. Teague of Foss, Okla., Tells How Inabine Cured Him.

I had suffered from kidney and bladder trouble for four or five years, and had been treated by a number of physicians, but got only temporary relief; had also taken many kinds of patent medicines, none of which benefited me.

My sister, who lives near Corsicana, sent me a bottle of INABINE, asking me to take it, as it had cured so many people whom she knew. That she was confident that it would cure me. I began to improve after the first few doses, and before I had taken the first bottle my trouble was entirely removed.

TRAINING SCHOOL OPENED SUNDAY BY METHODIST CHURCH

SPECIAL SONG SERVICE BY CHURCH CHOIR AT EVENING HOUR SUNDAY

The Standard Training School started in the Educational Building of the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with a registration of about 65. Two sessions were held Sunday afternoon and the school will continue through Friday night, with night sessions starting promptly at 7:30. Among the announcements made by Rev. F. D. Culver at the morning church hour was one to the effect that a special called meeting of the Board of Stewards would be held in the Educational Building Monday night at 7 o'clock, and that he was anxious for a full attendance of all stewards; a meeting of Mrs. Benton's Circle Monday afternoon at which time sewing for the heathens, with a free will offering for the church repair fund would be the order of the day; no regular meeting of prayer service Wednesday night but that the devotional service would be held in connection with the training school.

At the morning church hour Edward French Egan, choir director, sang a solo and the choir sang an anthem. Rev. Mr. Culver preached from the subject, "The Law of Progress." There was no sermon at the night hour, but a sacred musical concert was given by the choir under direction of Mr. Egan.

In the Adult Department of the Sunday School, Rev. Joe Patterson presided; prayer was given by Rev. Mr. Culver; J. S. Haslam led the singing and Mrs. T. P. McLenahan presided at the piano. Rev. A. W. Hall, presiding elder of the district and a teacher in the Standard Training School, explained the workings of the school and asked for the co-operation of those present in making it a success. The lesson was read in unison.

In the Weller Bible Class, Beaufort and W. A. Martin. This some time, taught the class; S. W. Burdine, president, presided. Mr. Burdine named the following as the new membership committee: Elbert Williams, chairman; W. R. Deskin, J. W. Higginbotham, R. T. Beaton, B. A. Jones, D. D. Perry, Thos. Keathley, Tom Yarbrough, G. T. Cowden, S. H. King, J. H. Woolley, Doyle Pevhouse, Horace of Ester and W. A. Martin. This committee held a short session and set the goal of the class at 100. The attendance in the Weller Bible Class was 55, as compared with 51 last Sunday, and 40 the same Sunday one year ago.

In the Adult Department the following attendance figures were furnished by T. H. Benton, secretary for this department: Total present this Sunday 166, last Sunday 229; Mothers' Class 30, this Sunday, compared with a like number last Sunday; L. Treadwell's class 17, compared with 24 last Sunday; W. H. Jack 5, compared with 4 last Sunday; J. L. Halbert 11, compared with 10 last Sunday; Sam Jackson's class 18, compared with 19 last Sunday; J. L. Halbert 11, compared with 10 last Sunday.

There was a total of 619 present at Sunday School. This, compared with an attendance of 588 the same Sunday last year shows a gain of 31, but compared with 683 last Sunday, shows a loss of 64.

The announcement was made by J. L. Halbert, president of the Methodist Men's Luncheon Club that on account of conflicting activities in the church that the regular Luncheon Club meeting would be on the regular meeting day in December. The announcement was also made that as a benefit for the Mothers' Class the Community Players would present "The Neighbors" on the night of November 7 at 8 o'clock in the Educational Building.

MATTRESS FACTORY IS IMPORTANT LOCAL INDUSTRIAL PLANT

ONE OF CORSICANA'S FASTEST GROWING MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISES

Among the city's rapidly growing home enterprises is the Corsicana Mattress Factory, which is now entering the retail business with a complete line of mattresses, comforts, pillows and quilt bats, in addition to the renovating department.

The factory has been catering to the wholesale trade in mattresses, comforts and quilt bats, and making a specialty of renovating old mattresses. All styles, sizes and weights of mattresses are made at the factory from home-grown cotton.

"Our factory is equipped to compete with any of the widely advertised lines of mattresses that are on the market today," was the statement of W. B. Kistler, manager of the plant. "Our plant is smaller than those in Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth or Waco, but they have not better equipment, and they cannot make any better products."

Everything that is necessary for a complete product is available in the local factory. All of the ticks used on the mattresses are made in the plant and the product completed under one roof. Only Navarro county cotton is used in the manufacture of mattresses and comforts, and a large reserve is kept on hand in local warehouses.

The renovating machine has been designed and built by the owners of the local plant and differs from the ordinary renovator in that the cotton is moved mechanically instead of being blown by the fan. The machine consists of a long cylinder studded with bolts set in spirals that shred the cotton thoroughly. All through this process a strong blower is turned on the cotton, forcing the dirt and dust into a special receptacle underneath the cylinder.

Another department of the plant is the fumigating room into which all dirty and possibly diseased mattresses are sent and thoroughly disinfected, eliminating all possibility in the renovated product.

A special machine handles the new cotton, shredding it before it is sent to the felting machine. The felting machine is one of the latest models and is the same type that is used by the outstanding mattress manufacturers.

The cotton is fed into the machine from a big hopper which goes over and around a number of cylinders turning in different directions and at various speeds so that the cotton is properly interwoven.

As the product comes from the first section of the machine it is carried off by a long arm that laps it several times before another section rolls it in long rolls ready for the mattress.

The machine can felt the cotton in any width or length and the cotton can be stacked to any thickness desired in a mattress.

All of the finishing is done by hand, two expert finishers turning out a high grade of work. The capacity of the plant at present is 50 mattresses a day. It is running below that figure at this time, and only two finishing tables are in use while three would be required for a capacity run.

Many farmers of Navarro county sleep each night on their own cotton, according to Kistler, since many of them bring their cotton to the factory and have mattresses made from their own product.

In the past the products of the factory have been sold through local furniture dealers and by special order work; but the policy is being changed and the products of the factory will be offered to the public directly. A downtown store will be established in the near future where the products of the factory will be displayed, including a full line of mattresses, comforts, pillows and quilt bats.

The plant is located at 322 East Second avenue and the public is invited to visit the plant and see the whole process of manufacture.

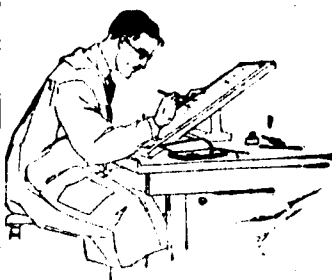

The factory is not a new enterprise to Corsicana, as it has been operating in Corsicana under the name of the Corsicana Mattress Factory for about fifteen years. It was operated by B. F. Anderson for about twelve years, and was taken over three years ago by W. B. Kistler and D. S. Carnahan. Kistler is the manager of the plant.

SPECIAL PROGRAM COLORED COMMUNITY CENTER DREW CROWD

WHITES AND NEGROES DELIVER ADDRESSES AND JUBILEE SINGERS HEARD

There was a large gathering of whites and negroes at the Corsicana Colored Community Center on East Sixth avenue Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at which time a special program had been announced to be given with the whites and the negroes participating. R. J. Jackson, chairman of the campaign fund among the white people for the aid of the Colored Community center, presided at the meeting, which was attended by many white people who are deeply interested in assisting the negroes in their commendable work involved in the Community Center project.

J. T. Newsom spoke on the general subject of what the white people expected of the Colored Community Center, and as usual made a most interesting talk with a great deal of wholesome and constructive advice for those in charge of and directly concerned with the project. W. Roy Christian, secretary-manager of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, also delivered a most helpful and beneficial talk.

Among the negroes who made talks were G. W. Jackson, A. Wright, B. A. Jackson and others. Great pleasure was given the assembled crowd by the rendition of several negro spirituals by the colored Jubilee Singers, the repertoire including the following:

"Stay Right," "Keep Inclin' Along," "You'd Better Run," "I Know I Have Another Building," "Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray," "Lord, I Can't Stay Away," "Give Me That Old-Time Religion," "Hush, Somebody's Calling Me," "It's Me," "Swing Low."

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the presentation of a piano to the Colored Community Center by J. T. Newsom of the Southwestern Music Company. R. J. Jackson making the presentation talk. Miss Annie Mayo also gave the organization a handsome and valuable indexed Bible, which was presented by Mr. Jackson, who has taken much interest in this work.

It was announced that the negroes had raised about $700 for the work and that the funds to be raised among the white people was nearing the amount agreed upon, and that complete success will crown the efforts of the campaigners.

DALLAS BUSINESS MEN WILL VISIT TRINIDAD PLANT

WILL MAKE SHORT STOP IN CORSICANA ON RETURN JOURNEY

Corsicana will be host to a party of Dallas business men, including the officers and directors of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, Thursday afternoon when the Dallas party returns from a tour of inspection of the giant power plant of the Texas Power and Light Company at Trinidad.

Sydney Marks, president of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, has forwarded the following telegram, inviting the Dallas party to stop here:

"M. J. Norrell, General Chairman, Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

"We understand that our own John Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light Company will accompany a group of representative Dallas business men to our great power plant at Trinidad, Texas, Thursday. On your return from Trinidad, in making change of cars the business and professional men of Corsicana would like for you to mingle with us for a short stay to meet and know your better. Please advise us of your arrangements."

The Dallas party will make the trip to Trinidad in East Texas Thursday to see the huge generating plant, one of the greatest of its kind in America. John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light Company, owner of the plant, will be host to the party.

Leaving Dallas early in the morning the party will come to Corsicana by interurban and here a special train over the Cotton Belt will be used for the remainder of the trip. Following the stop in Corsicana on the return trip, the party goes back to Dallas via interurban.

The Trinidad plant supplies power to a large part of the State. Its smoke stacks are as high as the Magnolia building, with boiler rooms as large as a six-story building. Water is supplied by an artificial lake covering 680 acres. Lignite, said to be available in almost inexhaustible quantities near the plant, is used for fuel in pulverized form.

Guides will take the visitors through the works. A barbecue lunch will be served on the ground. The Dallas party will be joined in this city by a number of Corsicana business men, who will make the trip to the Trinidad plant with them.

CORSICANA WELL REPRESENTED IN THOMAS' REGISTER

COMPLETE BOOK ON MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

Corsicana is well represented in the 1927-28 edition of Thomas' Register of American Manufacturers, a huge volume of 4500 pages and weighing 10 pounds and known as the "Bible of American Industry," a copy of which has just been received for the information library of the Chamber of Commerce.

Among the local firms and organizations listed in this outstanding publication of its type are American Well & Prospecting Co., Oil City Iron Works, Corsicana Brick Co., Whitesell Brick & Lumber Co., Corsicana Cotton Mills, Corsicana Oil & Refining Co., Royall Coffee Co., Corsicana Grader & Machinery Co., and the Chamber of Commerce among the commercial organizations.

The volume is strikingly complete in its classifications. Practically every article manufactured in the United States is shown together with names of all concerns making it and their capital stock. Such further classifications as trade marks, branch houses and other essential data is given. The Thomas Register is a standard handbook for purchasing agents. It is available for reference at the local Chamber office.

These Are Busy Days

No farmer can afford to hitch up the "rig" or get out the "car" at this busy season for the purpose of traveling miles to pay bills or make purchases. Yet that is what he must do if he still follows the obsolete, unbusinesslike practice of paying bills with cash. On the other hand if you maintain a Checking Account, all you need do is write out a check, slip it in an envelope, mail it outside the gate — and the U. S. Mail and this bank do the rest.

Your Checking Account is invited!

SUPREME COURT HAS REFUSED WRIT ERROR IN LOCAL TAX CASE

The Supreme Court of Texas refused to grant a writ of error Wednesday in the case of L. A. Pinkston et al vs. Navarro county et al injunction, which was appealed from the ruling for the plaintiffs in the Thirteenth Judicial District Court late in 1926.

In the original case tried before Judge Scarborough, the plaintiffs attacked the validity of the 10-cent road maintenance tax in Road District No. 1 and also the county-wide maintenance tax of 10 cents on the $100 valuation. Judge Scarborough ruled the maintenance tax in Road District No. 1 was null and void and that the county-wide maintenance tax was valid. The case was appealed to the Court of Civil Appeals which upheld the ruling of the local court. The refusal of the Supreme Court to grant a writ of error also is upholding the ruling of the local court.

The district maintenance tax in road district one was voted several years ago and the county-wide maintenance tax was voted on at the same time that the $7,000,000 good road bond issue was defeated. When the litigation was brought late in 1926, an agreement was reached by the counsel in the case whereby the tax could be collected by the county and held in escrow until the final settlement of the suit, due to the impossibility of the tax collector's office being able to change the rolls of the county in the short time necessary. I was also agreed that in the event that the county lost, the tax payers would be refunded their money. This affects only those tax payers in Road District No. 1.

The money collected plus the interest amounts to $25,625.59, according to an announcement from the office of J. M. Tullos, county auditor.

Official ruling from the Supreme Court has not been received here yet, but the above amount will be due to the tax payers and payments will be made from the office of J. M. Tullos, county auditor. Definite announcement will be made as to when payments will be made within a few days, it is thought.

This case is highly important and was watched with considerable interest in a number of counties of Texas where similar conditions exist. Local authorities stated that this was the first suit of its exact character to be carried to the Supreme Court in Texas for final disposition.

WELL PLUGGED BACK AND SHOT IS MAKING OIL AT WORTHAM

Special to the Sun. Wortham, Texas, Oct. 31.—Wortham is excited over the bringing in Sunday a well at the 2631 foot level. The N. H. Lindley No. 1 Stronbe & Stronbe, one mile south of Wortham, was plugged back to 2631 feet and shot with nitro-glycerine and went over the top of the derrick spraying oil and mud. The well flowed for a while then was put on the pump and is making 100 barrels of oil and 200 barrels of water.

The superintendent for Stronbe & Stronbe was on the field Sunday and pronounced satisfaction with the well and had same placed on the pump.

The Humble Oil and Refining Company are considering shooting their wells on the Manning an offset to the Lindley No. 1. This sand was picked up in practically every well in the Wortham field, but ever they were after the deeper pay and never tried to develop it.

Many people visited the well today and some are of the opinion it will greatly increase the production in the Wortham field in the next few weeks.

The oil tested 39 gravity by the Pure Oil Company, who have wells on the west side of the well that is making the oil. The driller who first drilled this well to the deep pay had charge of bringing in the well.

AFRAID TO EAT

Bloating Spells, from Indigestion, Put an Oklahoma Man in a Miserable Fix, But He Found Relief.

Swink, Okla.—In describing how he suffered from indigestion, Mr. S. T. Strain, of this place, says:

"I have been a user of Black-Draught for four or five years. I have been taking it for stomach trouble. I suffered after eating with bloating and a 'tight feeling'. 'I had spells when I could not eat much of anything. I had severe headaches. I would be nauseated and hurt a lot. I was in a pretty bad fix.

"I began taking Black-Draught. It seemed to help me wonderfully. I didn't find anything that benefited me as Black-Draught did. I certainly can recommend it.

"There were times when I just did without anything to eat until I was so weak to go. I was just miserable, and when I ate, my system seemed clogged.

"I had very severe headaches. So I didn't know just what to do. I knew I couldn't work if I didn't eat, so I could be. I took Black-Draught pretty regularly and got where I could eat, and I don't have to take it so regularly now." NC-177

BIG CIRCUS WILL BE HERE FOR THREE OF DAYS; MORE FEATURES

A Fall-Festival Week for the citizens of Corsicana and Navarro county is in the making. Tentative plans call for six-days of merry-making and pleasure the first three days of which will be featured by the Bob Morton Circus which is being brought to Corsicana by the Navarro County Shrine Club.

November 14 to 19, inclusive, is the date.

Other features of the week will include a big parade each day, the parades to be under the direction of the various local service organizations.

At a meeting Friday morning at the Chamber of Commerce, attended by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, luncheon clubs Shrine club, Retail Merchants' Association, Morton's Circus, and others, the matter was given thorough consideration and another meeting was called for Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 10:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce, at which time the details will be settled and permanent plans perfected.

Not a Carnival. Bob Morton, owner of the circus and J. J. Cleary of the same organization, met with the local people. It was pointed out by Mr. Morton that his organization gave a straight circus program and was not to be confused with a carnival in any way. "We carry no gambling devices, and there are no hangers-on with our show," Mr. Morton said. "We have a high-class circus performance which lasts for approximately two hours and our performers are all stars in their particular line, having been picked from the largest circuses now on tour and our program will compare most favorably with any circus on the road."

The circus is being brought to Corsicana by the Navarro County Shrine Club and it is the idea of the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants' Association to cooperate with the Shrine organization by having the Fall Festival week during the stay of the circus. When the final plans have been worked out there will be many features which will attract people here from 100 miles radius. The city is to be gaily decorated and there will be prizes in connection with the parades as well as will there be other prizes offered. Details will be announced following the Tuesday meeting.

Thousands Would Attend.

It was the opinion of a majority of those attending the Friday meeting that an event of this nature would be of great benefit to all concerned and that with the cooperation of the merchants, the Shrine Club, the luncheon clubs the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants' Association and all other citizens of Corsicana the week could be made one of the greatest ever attempted in this city and that thousands of visitors would be drawn here.

It was brought out that the fact of the Morton Circus already being here would make an excellent basis upon which to work and plan the details of the local features to dovetail with the circus.

Those attending the meeting Friday included:

Sydney Marks, H. R. Stronbe, Jake Hudson, Chas. Jester, Jim P. Robinson, Bob Morton, J. J. Cleary, Clyde Foster, Lowry Martin, Lynde Wortham, Roy Christian, Fred Upchurch, J. N. Garlitt, Harrison Fendley, John Calhoun, Ed Dupuy, J. T. Newsom, and others.

TOTAL TAX REDUCTION OF $250,000,000 PROMISED BY THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 29.—A total tax reduction of $250,000,000, or at the greatest $300,000,000, is the most the treasury will concede in its discussion of the administration's program next week with the House Ways and Means Committee. Hearings will begin on Monday preparatory to drafting the new revenue bill.

Although details of the program have yet to be decided upon, it is known that the administration will seek to effect this slash by cutting corporation rates and repealing certain nuisance and excise taxes remaining from war days. Repeal of the Federal inheritance tax will be among the objectives of the administration again this year.

With Western Independent Republican Senators, who favor a minimum of reduction, holding the balance of power in the upper branch of Congress, it seems likely that proponents of a smaller downward revision will have a decided advantage. The Westerners are of the opinion that reduction of the national debt is preferable to cutting the tax rates.

Not all administration supporters in the Senate, however, are favorable to the $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 limit. Some, including Chairman Smoot, of the Senate Finance Committee, are of the opinion that the reduction should reach a total of $350,000,000, while the Democrats are of the opinion that a cut of $400,000,000 is possible.
